Assessors Begin New Exemption Program

Forms for $1500 Cut In Values Available At Township Offices

Assessing offices in the Quad-City area will begin this week the job of processing a new series of "Homestead Exemption" application forms under which real estate assessment cuts will be extended to many persons 65 years of age or older who were ineligible for the reductions earlier this year.

Persons qualifying for the assessment cuts and a resultant tax reduction on bills payable next year will have until Sept. 1 to file the applications with township assessors of their respective townships. The program will be extended to all parts of the county as well as the Quad-City area.

James Barron, Granite City township assessor, said procedure for filing the applications will be the same as that followed during February when exemption forms were filed under the original Homestead Exemption act by persons 65 years or over, with a March 1 deadline. Forms for the new program will be available tomorrow at Barron's office and the offices of Assessors John Brickley of Venice township, Joe Cohen of Namake township and Otis Reeves of Chouteau township.

Adopted in 1969, the original law adopted by the Illinois legislature last year provided a $1500 reduction in the assessed value of homes owned "solely" by persons 65 years of age or older, or owned by such persons as a joint tenant or tenant in common with their spouse or on other person. To qualify, the property owner must have been 65 years of age or older prior to Jan. 1.

The law brought complaints from many persons who said it was inequitable because it excluded several types of property owners. An amendment to the original law was adopted by the legislature in this session, extending the exemptions.

Under the amendment, home owners now are eligible if they own the home with such relatives as brothers, sisters and

Motorcyclist Dies in Crash; 26 Injured

A motorcyclist was killed and 26 persons were injured in 21 traffic accidents reported to Quad-City authorities during the weekend. Eight persons were injured in one accident and seven were hurt in another single mishap.

A Granite City man who moved recently to Creve Coeur, Mo., was killed early Saturday evening when he lost control of his motorcycle on Highway 67 in Jefferson county, Mo.

Leon V. Johns, 47, an employee at the Venice plant of Union Electric Co., was pronounced dead upon arrival at Jefferson County Memorial Hospital in St. Louis, Mo., at 5:30 p.m. Saturday.

Missouri highway patrol officers said Johns was traveling south on Highway 67 and lost control of his motorcycle as he pulled back into the southbound lane after passing two automobiles. The motorcycle overturned several times and the cyclist was thrown into a roadside ditch, police said.

Mr. Johns formerly lived at 17 Fairview Estates in the Arlington Heights area, where he moved earlier this year to Creve Coeur, Mo., where his mother, Mrs. Maude Haverstick, resides.

An Army veteran of World

War II, Mr. Johns was born in St. Louis. He was a member of Operating Engineers, Local 148 of Venice. He had been employed by the utility firm for several years as a machinist.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Fairy Johns of Granite City; one son, Hugh Johns of Granite City; a daughter, Mrs. James (Sandra) Haney of Collinsville; a brother, Clarence Alfred Johns of Collinsville; two grandchildren; and his mother, Mrs. Haverstick.

Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

8 Hurt on Route 157

Eight injuries occurred at 1 a.m. Sunday on Route 157 at Sunset Hill in a head-on collision between the northbound auto of Chester Dean, 17, of 4204 East Lake drive, and the southbound car of Charles Stillwell, 22, Jennings, Mo. Stillwell was charged by state police with crossing into a northbound lane.

Dean was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for head and left elbow cuts and an injury to the right arm. Three of his passengers, admitted to the hospital, were Charles Dean, 23, Edwardsville, back and left wrist injuries; Charles Dean's wife, Rebecca, 23, bruises to the right side of the face and chest pains; and their daughter, Melissa, two years old, two-inch cuts on the head.

Another passenger in the Dean car, Elizabeth Saputo, 18, of 3132 Rodger avenue, was released after being treated here for chest pains and abrasions to the right knee.

Stillwell, knocked out in the crash, was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital with abrasions and contusions to the forehead and upper left arm. Injuries also were sustained by his two passengers, Terry Forest, 22, Cool Valley, Mo., and Paul Schroeder, 24, Jennings.

7 Hurt in Crash

A three-vehicle collision at the intersection of Namoki and Fehling roads at 10:47 a.m. Friday resulted in injuries to seven persons.

Police said a car operated by Mrs. Martha L. Carden, 50, of 2909 Ash avenue, traveling north on Namoki road, failed to yield the right of way to a southbound auto driven by David L. Spencer, 31, of Rural Route 3, Box 335, who struck the Carden vehicle on the right side, knocking it into an Illinois Power Co. truck operated by

Fire Guts Part of Black's Bakery

Apartments on Upper Floor Burned Out; Water Damage to Shop

Fire believed to have been caused by a short circuit in an air conditioning unit gutted the upper story of Black's Bakery building, 1947 Delmar avenue, Friday afternoon, and caused extensive damage to the bakery and another apartment on the ground floor.

Flames broke through the roof shortly after the fire started and smoke billowing from the building attracted hundreds of spectators. Three fire pumps from the Granite City fire department responded to the alarm, which was received at 1:50 p.m.

Six off-duty Granite City firemen were called to assist and the Missouri fire department sent a pumper for stand-by duty. Firemen were at the scene nearly two hours.

Started in Apartment

The fire started in an upstairs apartment occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Usrey, daughter son-in-law of Kenneth Black, owner of the building, and their three children. Another apartment on the second floor is vacant.

Mrs. Usrey said she heard a "popping noise" and went into a rear bedroom where she found the curtains and a bed in flames.

She said she had no difficulty in getting out of the apartment with her children Catherine, 10, Leslie, 9, and John, 22 months.

A frame porch at the back of the building, valued at $750, was shot in the abdomen, apparently accidentally, at 12:20 a.m. Saturday at her home, and was reported to be in serious condition this morning at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

The bullet, from a .45 caliber revolver owned by her father, went through her back and entered the floor. The gun contained a single shell.

It was reported that the girl who was shooting the gun to

Chlorine Gas Sends Nine to Hospital

Park Workers, Bathers Inhale Gas Escaping From Filter System

Nine persons, seven of them children, were hospitalized Friday afternoon and treated for inhalation of chlorine gas which escaped from a gas cylinder being connected to the filtering system of the swimming pool at Wilson Park.

Three of those affected by the gas fumes were admitted for further treatment. The others were released after treatment and examination.

The incident occurred about 4:30 p.m. as Dallas Byrd, 64, maintenance foreman, was attaching a new 150-pound chlorine gas cylinder to the filtering system in the equipment room just off the swimming pool deck. He was being assisted by Clark Niepert, 22, pool manager.

Byrd and Niepert were among those taken to St. Elizabeth hospital. Niepert, who lives at 2325 Edwards street, was admitted. Byrd, of 2014 Ohio avenue, was released after treatment.

Defective Cap Falls

Harold Brown, park superintendent, said the gas cylinder apparently had a defective cap which failed to hold when the connection was made. Gas escaped from the high-pressure cylinder against the swimming pool deck where the other persons, all bathers, were affected.

Others who received treatment at the hospital were: Jeffrey Ship, 11, and Dale Shipp, 9, of 2532 Pine street. Jeffrey was admitted and Dale was released after treatment.

Arney Arney, 12, of 719 Twenty-eighth street, admitted. Tommy Hampton, 9, of Dora, Mo., treated and released.

Randy Parks, 14, of 807 Circle drive, treated and released. William Walker, 9, of 2425 East 26th street, treated and released.

John Lance, 9, of 2809 Circle drive, treated and released.

Madison Officers Pay Cost In Contempt Case

A contempt of court citation against two Madison police officers for failure to appear as witnesses July 22 in a burglary case involving two juveniles was dismissed by Circuit Judge I. H. Streeter Thursday afternoon, but the two officers were assessed court costs which totaled $50.60.

Judge Streeter reprimanded the officers for not appearing at the hearing of burglary charges filed as the result of a break-in at the R&E Lumber Co. in Madison. Because no testimony was available, Judge Streeter dismissed the case and released the juveniles.

The judge told the two officers — Sgt. Ronald Graywack and Patrolman Edward Golan — that "as a result of your failure to appear you have a burglar running around loose in your town." The youth to whom Judge Streeter was referring was picked up Thursday night by Granite City police as a burglary suspect.

Both officers contended they did not appear at the hearing because they were not served by subpoenas. Golan said neither he nor Graywack were notified of the hearing by their superiors.

Clyde Rogers Honored At Retirement Party

Clyde Rogers, 5311 Washington avenue, was guest of honor at a surprise retirement party given by his family at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rogers, 143 Briarmore street, Friday evening. Mr. Rogers retired from Granite City Steel Co. after 45 years of service.

Those attending were Mrs. Ethel Rogers, Mrs. John Lucke, Mrs. Rogers, Edna Rogers, Mrs. Ida Grace, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Settle, and children, Mrs. Rogers, Edna Rogers, Wash., who was unable to attend. A buffet dinner was served after the honoree opened his gifts.

Specifically, the petition filed Friday asks the court to settle the principal issue. These include the right of the mayor to appoint or employ personnel to an administrative position in the police department and his right to establish the salary without the advice and consent of the council.

Lighting Rods for Trees

Large shade trees are often ruined when a bolt of lightning makes a direct hit.

Techniques and materials similar to those used in protecting buildings from lightning are used in protecting trees. A well grounded conductor cable is fastened along the full length of the trunk and connected to a rod located at the top of the tree. In extremely large trees more than one conductor cable may be required on the trunk and secondary conductors installed on the major branches. Grounding requires extending the cable underground to a point beyond the root area to avoid electrocuting the roots. Deep grounding rods provide adequate safety.

Isolated or especially large tree. In extremely large trees Rare or otherwise valuable trees deserve special consideration. Commercial Arborists can properly install systems and offer a maintenance schedule to protect your favorite tree and nearby property.

Bicycle Hits Truck
Two young boys riding a bicycle without brakes ran into the right front of a utility company truck at 12:43 p.m. Friday on West 24th street, between Logan street and Missouri avenue.

The truck driver, Raymond L. Lindner, 34, of 2820 Cayuga street, told police the boys, Herbert Richmond, 11, of 2139 Cleveland blvd., and David Davis, of 2307 Logan avenue, came out of an alley on the bicycle, striking the side of his truck. He said he was unable to avoid a collision with the bicycle, which was found to have no brakes.

The Davis boy who was riding on the handlebars of the bicycle was injured when he drove his minibus from an alley into an auto driven by Forrest W. Doran, 2422 Deway avenue, at 7:55 a.m. Friday in the 1700 block of Maple street. He was taken by ambulance to St. Louis. Skillful manipulation of several whirling hoops earned first place honors for an 11-year-old Chicago girl, who competed here Saturday in the Illinois Hula Hoop Championships, staged at Wilson Park rink pavilion. A large number of spectators viewed the contest.

Cindy Shank, representing the Chicago park district, won top honors and an opportunity to compete in one of 13 regional contests, after her performance was voted the most outstanding by a panel of judges. The youngster received a plaque and a $25 U. S. Savings

Bond from Henry Gabriel, president of the Granite City Park Board. First runner-up was Patty Davany of the village of Oak Park, who also received a gift. The girls were among children from 13 Illinois communities which sent two representatives each to the state contest here.

Local contestants were Juli Domitrovich, 11, and Lisa A. Kee, nine. The Domitrovich girl won the Granite City "All City" Championship in July with Lisa Kee taking runner-up honors at the local elimination meet.

County's Farmers To Select Candidates
Madison county farmers will have the opportunity to nominate by petition candidates for Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service community committee posts through Aug. 17.

"This year we hope farmers in Madison county will nominate by petition full slates for all 21 communities. A full slate means a minimum of six candidates to choose from in electing a community committee of three members and two alternates," Charles C. Losch, chairman of the Madison county ASC committee, said.

Losch explained that the county ASC committee administers agricultural programs such as marketing quotas and port loans and purchases, conservation cost-sharing, and other farm action programs at the county level, dealing with producers. Community committees not only elect county committee members and alternates also help the county committee administer the programs.

MORE ABOUT Assessors

children in addition to their spouse.

The home owner no longer need to be the sole owner to qualify for the exemption. He qualifies if he holds an undivided half or quarter interest in the home.

One Exemption Allowed
Others qualifying under the amended law are owners of a life interest in a home, persons buying homes on a bond for deed, and owners of condominiums or cooperative apartments.

About the only persons excluded under the new law are those who hold only a lease interest in homes. Only one $1500 exemption is allowed for a home, regardless of the number of owners.

Applications filed with township assessors will be forwarded to the Madison county Board of Review which will make the reductions on the township assessment books for the 1970 year. The lower assessment will be used in figuring tax bills collectable next summer.

The work of processing a second set of assessment revisions is expected to delay completion of Madison county assessment figures this winter. Customarily assessments are extended, board of review hearings are completed and the valuations finalized by Dec. 31, so that the county clerk's office may begin tax extension work at the beginning of the year.

Must Provide Proof
Barton's office said it expects more difficulty in completing exemption applications under the amended law since each applicant must provide documentary proof of his share of ownership. In cases where a home may be owned by several persons, only one has possession of a deed. The others must provide proof of their partial ownership.

The Sept. 1 deadline for filing applications was set by Dale Hilt, chief clerk of the Madison county Board of Review, who

Cab Hits Building

A taxicab driven by Ralph E. North, 1017 Reynolds street, Madison, was damaged when it struck a building at the corner of 16th and State streets at 12:15 a.m. Sunday. North told police he was southbound on State street when he attempted to pass another car which turned toward him, causing him to lose control and hit the building.

said no applications will be accepted after that date.

The fact that the amendment was passed this year, does not change the requirement that all applicants must have been 65 years of age by Jan. 1 of this year. Those who became 65 after that date may apply for the exemption next year for a cut in tax bills payable in 1972.

Mr., Mrs. Fred Plebanek To Observe Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Plebanek, 2900 Iowa street, will celebrate the 50th anniversary of their marriage at a 6 o'clock Mass Saturday evening, Aug. 8, at Sacred Heart Catholic Church, followed by a reception at the American Legion Home, 24th street and Madison avenue. The wedding of the couple will take place Sept. 25.

Among those attending the Mass was Mrs. Stella Kowalchuk, who was in the wedding party of the couple 50 years ago.

Wilkinson-White Wedding Vows Exchanged Saturday

Arrangements of white gladioli and greenery on the altar, lighted candles in candelabra and white pew bows provided the setting Saturday evening at Grace Baptist church for the wedding of Miss Jeri Lynn Wilkinson, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Wilkinson, 2447 Benton street, and Pvt. Bruce Lawrence White, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond White, 3024 Warren avenue.

Rev. Clifford Mueller performed the 6 o'clock ceremony and a reception followed in the church fellowship hall. Miss Ruth Myracle was in charge of the guest book.

Mrs. Marjorie Ellsworth presided at the organ and played "Suite Bergamasque" by Debussy; "A Time For Us" and the wedding marches.

Saturday's bride chose a gown of luxurious silk organza fashioned with an Empire bodice, the waist trimmed with ribbon and lace. The neck and shoulders were gently revealed through the sheer fabric and accented with daisy and lace trim.

Full transparent sleeves were caught at the wrists with more of the lace and ribbon and the gathered skirt was encircled with two strands of daisy trim. A cap of ribbon and lace secured a mantilla veil of silk illusion and a nosegay of white carnations, greenery and white daisies was carried by the bride. Mr. Wilkinson gave his daughter in marriage.

Miss Nancy Cook was maid of honor and Miss Barbara Wilkinson, a sister of the bride, and Miss Terri McCallister, a niece, were bridesmaids.

The attendants were gowns of bon soir green trimmed with daisies and carried bouquets of carnations studded with carnations tinted green.

A little flower girl, Pamela Shepherd, another niece of the bride, similarly attired, carried a basket of green tinted daisies. Steven Miller, the bride's cousin, served as ring bearer.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Wilkinson wore a beige knit dress and gold accessories, while the bridegroom's mother selected a dusty rose costume and matching accessories. Both wore white orchid corsages.

Pvt. White had Chip Green as best man, and the list of groomsmen and ushers included Dwight White, a brother, Denny Myracle, Rob Wilkinson, the bride's brother, and Gary Simpson.

After a brief honeymoon in Piedmont, Mo., the newweds will live in Council Grove, Kan. Both young people graduated from local schools and attended SU-SW. Pvt. White is now in military service and is stationed at Fort Riley, Kan.

Janiece Allmon Becomes Bride of Gerald Francis

Miss Janiece Louise Allmon became the bride of Gerald Francis Friday evening at First United Presbyterian Church. The parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Melvin C. Allmon, 2125 Lindell blvd., Granite City, and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Francis of Farmington, Mo.

Arrangements of pink, white and yellow Marguerite daisies, together with blue starburst pom-poms, adorned the altar, and lighted candles in aisle candelabra entwined with garlands of smilax illuminated the sanctuary.

Dr. David B. Maxton officiated at 8 o'clock in the presence of relatives and friends of the bride and groom.

Mrs. Isabel Schmidt presided at the organ and Andrew Polk of Elvins, Mo., was vocalist. For her wedding the bride chose a floor-length gown with an Empire waist and an A-line skirt. It was fashioned of white organza over peau de soie with re-embroidered Alencon lace, seed pearls and crystals trimming the bodice. The gown featured a high neck, Carmel sleeves and a Watteau train. A Camello cap held in place the bride's mantilla and shoulder-length veils and she carried a bouquet of white daisies, white roses and lilies of the valley.

The attendants were Mrs. Donna Hager of Farmington, Mo., a classmate of the bride, as matron of honor, Miss Jennifer Francis and Miss Nancy Francis, sisters of the bridegroom, and Miss Marsha Crivello of St. Louis, another classmate of the bride. They wore identical gowns of mint green satin over taffeta with high waists and puffed sleeves finished with tight bands. Embroidery trimmed the fronts and the waists and headpieces were matching bows and illusion veiling. They held wicker plateaus baskets filled with daisies.

A little flower girl, Lisa Eaves, of St. Louis, dressed like the older attendants, carried a small basket of yellow rose petals. Miss Cynthia Knox of St. Joseph, Mo., a cousin of the bride, and Miss Linda Francis, Herculaneum, Mo., the bridegroom's cousin, lighted the candles.

Woman Arrested On Theft Charge

Sharon Howland, 25, of 1308 Eighteenth street, was scheduled to appear for hearing on a theft charge this afternoon following her arrest by Madison police Saturday at Second street and Washington avenue.

Authorities said she was arrested on a charge of theft growing out of her alleged possession of an auto which police said had been rented from a St. Louis auto rental agency, allegedly through use of a fraudulent credit card. The car was recovered last week from David E. Dickens, 29, who also was named on theft, weapon and drug charges.

Dickens' arrest grew out of a minor traffic arrest in which Madison Officer Paul Bargiel became suspicious of the man's ownership and began an investigation that ended with Dickens' second arrest and a series of charges. Police said Miss Howland was with Dickens when he was arrested on the traffic charge and at that time claimed she was owner of the car.

File Additional Charge
Meanwhile, Madison police filed an additional charge of petty theft against Dickens. Based on suspicion of the man's ownership and began an investigation that ended with Dickens' second arrest and a series of charges. Police said Miss Howland was with Dickens when he was arrested on the traffic charge and at that time claimed she was owner of the car.

Dickens, when first arrested, gave an address of 4139 Breckinridge lane, but the owner of the property said Dickens did not live at that address. Bond for Dickens was placed at $20,000 on the additional theft charge, bringing to $40,000 the total amount of bonds on which he is held.

Miss Howland was released on a recognition bond pending her appearance this afternoon.

Recreation 'Roundup' Program Set Thursday

Parents, friends and relatives of youngsters who have taken part in the Granite City Summer Recreation program at Wilson Park have been invited to the "Summer Round-up" on Thursday, Aug. 6, beginning at 8:30 p.m. at the ice rink. Also invited are pre-school children and those in baton classes.

Entertainment will be provided by each of the eleven playgrounds (in the ice rink). There will be a watermelon contest and the presentation of awards. Purple rosettes will be awarded to children who have won the most ribbons throughout the summer at their individual playgrounds. The winning team of the baseball league also will be honored.

Mrs. Helen Bjorkman, area supervisor, and the Granite City Park District summer recreation staff, has invited Quad-City area residents to attend the family affair "round-up" to conclude the summer programs.

Intersection Collision

A collision at the intersection of St. Clair and Ash avenues at 3:40 p.m. Friday, involved vehicles operated by Elva M. Luccwell, 2724 Harvey Place, Apt. 36, and Francis E. Judd, 1711 Garfield avenue, police reported.

JUDY COLLINS, contemporary art song stylist who will appear at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Mississippi River Festival at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus.

Judy Collins to Appear Wednesday at Festival

Music and poetry can produce a catharsis that involves everybody. That's what I'm after," says Judy Collins, who will be the Wednesday night attraction at the Mississippi River Festival at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus.

Formerly labeled a folk singer, Miss Collins is now referred to as "America's foremost singer of contemporary art songs." Born in Seattle, the daughter of a prominent radio personality, Miss Collins was reared in Denver from where she graduated to the New York-Cambridge-Chicago folk scenes in the early 1960s.

The transition from folk-singer to contemporary art song stylist usually is dated from her recording of "In My Life," in January, 1967. She believes, however, that her involvement with contemporary material began much earlier.

In notes which she wrote for her third album in 1964, Miss Collins explained, "Although it is called folk music, the music on this record has grown mostly out of the city, not the country... If I belong to any tra-

Student Pamphlet to Explain Government

"The best way to prevent a so-called 'establishment' is to ask him to join it," Secretary of State Paul Powell told members of the Illinois Association of Superintendents of Educational Service Regions at their annual conference in Springfield.

Powell said he hopes the new Handbook of Illinois Government issued by his office and which soon will be distributed to all 7th and 8th grade pupils in the state will help achieve that goal.

"I have long felt that there was an urgent need for the publication which could present some of the more fundamental facts of Illinois government in a manner which our young people would accept and understand," he said.

Secretary Powell said Superintendent of Public Instruction Ray Page is supplying his office with shipping labels for every school superintendent in the state, public and private, along with the number of copies required, so that all 7th and 8th grade pupils may receive the booklet.

FAMILIAR FIGHT. Names seldom heard locally, Chuck Amatti of Tennessee and Jerry Blundy of Kansas, were the early leaders in the Tri-City Speedway mid-season Super Sprint Championship

Sutcliff Wins Sprint

Chuck Amatti of Tennessee, fastest qualifier and handicapper, who began the race far back, trophy dash winner, appeared unbeatable in the early going of the Tri-City Speedway mid-season Super Sprint Championship 50-lap feature race Friday. But a gradual loss of a rear tire's pressure forced Amatti to drop back through the field of 18 cars, eventually to drop out and leave Dick Sutcliff to inherit the lead. Sutcliff from the 17th lap on was the front runner despite solid spalling attempts by Wb Spalding, finished second.

The 50-lap feature here was slowed twice in early laps with spinouts by Paul Tobias and Barney Jones. But after the 17th lap on was the front runner despite solid spalling attempts by Wb Spalding, finished second.

Jerry Blundy, who trailed Amatti during the early laps, finished third. Jimmy Moughan, who began the race far back, worked his way forward to finish fourth.

Spalding won the Saturday feature of the Super Sprint caravan at St. Charles, Mo. Bobby Jones won the Sunday caravan feature at Springfield.

Association circuit, showing similar strength in the runner-up spot.

Sutcliff and Spalding jugged positions as they moved to the front, but once Sutcliff saw the daylight of the front of the pack he was able to hold off every challenge from Spalding.

Louis Jansen won the hobby-stock car feature on the quarter-mile oval and also won a heat event. Bobby Stanton, fastest hobby-stock qualifier, won the other heat.

Ask Your Game Warden

By DONALD HASTINGS, Conversation Officer

Many things have changed in Conservation Officer work over the years. A recent one included a training session last week in crowd and riot control, as we are experiencing problems in many of our state parks from unruly groups resulting in property destruction.

Recently with the expected Rock Festival being scheduled within two miles of our Giant City Park and the general unrest in the area, thirty-five of us were detailed for security purposes to the Giant City State Park at Carbondale.

This is a very beautiful park and it is hard to believe anyone would want to damage it but I suppose not every one enjoys the outdoors like the rest of us.

If you have never been there it is well worth the trip. It has beautiful woodland setting with tremendous scenery including the large rocks from which it gets its name.

If you really want to score with your better half it would be a fine place to take her for a weekend. There is a very scenic lodge that has the best of food and modern cabins to stay in. All of this is set on top of a wooded ridge overlooking the country around it an each cabin sets to itself among the trees.

If you want to spend a restful and delightful weekend just two hours from home, this is the place. After a trip down there she probably will let you take two or three fishing trips with the gang and not complain a bit.

We have a new rule now that deer meat is no longer offered for eating. We are afraid someone will get some bad meat and be ill. Now all highway killed deer are shipped to the state. It is illegal for anyone to pick up a road killed deer or to otherwise waste attempt to utilize it. Classic softball at Worthen park Thursday.

Victory Tavern beat At's Auto Body 8-3 and Murdock Falstaff won by forfeit from Liberty Home in Northern Illinois Classic softball at Worthen park Thursday.

EARL says...

By the time you read this, I will be 250 miles from Earl's Surplus Discount Store. Let me tell you about the area I am now in.

Many years have passed since the largest scoop shovel in the world, big enough to hold a six room house, stripped off layer upon layer of soil in its never ending quest for coal, leaving behind long deep trenches and mounds of unwanted slate and non-fertile earth. These deep scars, made below the water table level, soon filled with clear sparkling water.

As the years passed, weed beds began to form, farmers stocked the lakes, and finally the slag heaps that ringed the strip mines began sprouting growth. First small scrub, then bushes, and finally forests of trees with their standing as beacons in an otherwise flat land.

And to this newly formed garden; this isle of wilderness with its constant array of hills and lakes, one after the other, go I in search of the thrill of fishing, and more, of being a part of the outdoors as it once might have been when man first came.

When I'm trying to say, when you cut out all the sauce, is that it's a hell-u-va fine place to fish and admire nature. Wish me luck!

MRS. LARRY W. FRAZIER, the former Anita Marie Hoedebeck, who was married Saturday evening at First United Presbyterian Church.

Anita Marie Hoedebeck, Larry W. Frazier Wed

The wedding of Miss Anita Marie Hoedebeck and Larry W. Frazier took place Saturday evening at First United Presbyterian Church.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hoedebeck, 3304 Red Bud avenue. Mr. Frazier's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Frazier Jr., 2128 Garfield avenue.

The candlelight ceremony was performed at 7 o'clock by Rev. David B. Maxton, and a reception was held in the church Fellowship Hall directly afterward.

Small clusters of summer flowers and lighted candles adorned the family pews and arrangements of white and lavender flowers were used on the altar. The candles were lighted by Debbie Reeder and Debbie Shanta.

For her wedding, the bride wore a floor-length gown fashioned of silk organza over a white tulle. The Empire bodice of Venise lace extended to a drop-shoulder securing the full, bishop sleeves of organza cuffed with matching lace. The gown was highlighted with a narrow standup collar and a detachable train topped with a large bow. A veil of silk illusion cascaded from a forward cap of lace motifs and organza.

It was trimmed with miniature iridescent and pearls. The bride held a cascade bouquet of phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis.

Miss Martha Hoedebeck, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor and the bridegroom's sister, Miss Beverly Frazier, was bridesmaid.

They were dressed alike in lavender ottoman. Sleeveless, they were designed with jewel necklines and Empire bodices defined with broad bands of Venise lace in a deeper shade of lavender, white and apple green. Lavender satin bows secured the maline veiling in their hair and all carried crescent bouquets of deep and light purple asters.

Amy Smolar and Gail Frazier, the latter a sister of the bridegroom, served as flower girls dressed in lavender and white frocks, floor-length. Shades of lavender and green trimmed the white bodices and the long skirts were lavender. They carried white baskets of lavender and white flowers and were lavender bows in their hair.

Richard Reinhardt, best man and Eddie Canada, James Walcott, Steven Fraley, and Keith and Kevin Hoedebeck, brothers of the bride, attended Mr. Frazier.

Mrs. Hoedebeck, mother of the bride, was in a mint-green silk shantung dress, while the bridegroom's mother chose a pink chiffon and lace dress. Both wore matching accessories and corsages of white orchids. Miss Cathy Ortolan was in charge of the bride's register at the reception.

After a trip to Lake Geneva, Wis., the newlyweds will live in Granite City. The former Miss Hoedebeck graduated from the local high school in 1968 and is now a sophomore at SIU-SW. She is employed in the accounting department of the Granite City Steel Co. Mr. Frazier is a full time student at SIU where he is a junior. He is a member of Phi Beta Lambda fraternity and is employed as a park district policeman. He was graduated from Granite City high school in 1966.

The rehearsal dinner was given Friday evening at the Round Table restaurant in Collinsville by the bridegroom's parents.

Headquarters for the wedding were: Bible, Isabel Schmidt, organist, and Ray Voorhees, vocalist. The songs were "I Love You Deeply," the Lord's Prayer and the love theme from "Romeo and Juliet."

Miss Patricia June Messer, David Hutchinson are Wed

First Assembly of God Church on Grand avenue was the scene of the wedding Saturday evening of Miss Patricia June Messer, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Messer, 1510 Sixth street, Madison, and David E. Hutchinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hutchinson, 1629 Market street.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. E. Cope before the altar decorated with arrangements of yellow gladioli, purple asters and greenery. Candles were attached to the pews along the aisle, and more of the candles burning in brass candleholders and in an arch before the altar, added further illumination for the 7 o'clock ceremony.

Mrs. Edward Collins presided at the organ and accompanied the vocalists, Mrs. James Morgan and Carl Holm. The songs were "Love is a Many Splendored Thing," "The Gift of New Year" and "Wedding Prayer."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of Chantilly lace styled with a high neckline and a mock bolero bodice trimmed with iridescent sequins set off by a bow. The long sleeves were full and cuffed, and a full sweep train of organza and lace bandage with scalloped lace fell from the waist. A matching bow trimmed with sequins and pearls secured a shoulder-length veil of bridal illusion. She carried a nosegay of white roses, daisies, stephanotis, and green and white flowers.

Miss Barbara Hackney was maid of honor, serving with four bridesmaids, Mrs. Denise Morgan, the bridegroom's sister, Cathy Messer, a niece of the bride, Pattie Crockacker and Debbie Peterson.

The attendants were identical gowns of yellow organza with high rounded necks, yoked full sleeves trimmed with white Venise lace, lace encircling the waistlines of the long semi-full skirts. Headpieces matched the gowns and the maid of honor carried a nosegay of yellow daisies, purple asters and white roses. The flowers in the bouquets of the maids were daisies and asters.

Tracy Messer, a niece of the bride, and Keith Messer, a nephew, served as flower girl and ring bearer. The former, a carryall basket of yellow and white daisies, was dressed like the older girls.

The bride's mother chose a petal pink linen coat dress, while the bridegroom's mother appeared in coral chiffon. Both wore matching accessories and white orchid corsages.

Jim Parks, the bridegroom's best man, was best man. Other attendants were Howard Harper, Gary Wood, Frank Monroe, Bill Campbell, Paul Frazier, Edward Collins, Chuck Kofahl and Tom Parks, groomsmen, ushers, and candlelighters.

Herbert F. A. Smith Loan Fund Created

The Herbert F. A. Smith loan fund has been established at Southern Illinois University—Southern campus as a memorial to the late professor of teacher education and curriculum.

Smith was an adviser to a laboratory school in Nepal at the time of his death last Aug. 30. He died in Kathmandu, A native of Newfoundland, Canada, Smith earned his Ph.D. at the University of Michigan. Prior to coming to the Southern campus in 1965, he spent seven years at the Carbondale campus of SIU.

In establishing the loan fund, Mrs. Smith said, "I would like to express my appreciation to all of Herb's friends who contributed so generously to the Herbert F. A. Smith fund, which will be used in the way of loans to students who are doing their student teaching. My husband was concerned about these students and felt things should be made as easy as possible financially during their student teaching period."

The loan fund was arranged through the SIU foundation. Additional gifts can be made by contacting Charles Schweizer, assistant director, either by writing the SIU Foundation at Southern campus or by calling Schweizer at (618) 692-2211.

SIU Heart Meter Aids Heart Disease Battle

A sophisticated new weapon in the battle against heart disease has been invented by a Southern Illinois University physiologist.

It's a device that measures the heart's blood-pumping output by taking temperatures as fine as a ten-thousandth of a degree. Inventor Alfred W.

Richardson says it reduces error and takes the danger out of methods now being used to determine cardiac output in heart patients.

The amount of blood the heart can pump is a critical index in finding out how well or poorly it is functioning. Methods now used to measure cardiac output are imperfect because of the kinds of "indicators" they have to use to make measurements, the time required to analyze samples, and the frequency of error in results.

They're also disliked by heart specialists because they require taking blood out of patients.

Instant Readings
Richardson's cardiac output meter requires no withdrawal of blood and can be set up to provide instant bedside readings on how the patient's heart is pumping.

What it does is record changes in the temperature of a minute amount of salt-water solution after it has been injected into a vein.

Introduced at room temperature, the solution warms up inside the body in relation to the amount of time it takes to be pumped through the heart. The faster it goes through, the less it is heated. The weaker the pumping action, the slower the solution goes through and the warmer it becomes.

The difference between a sick heart and a sound one may be seen as a difference of only 1-100th of a degree on Richardson's meter.

Richardson says the standard error factor with his system is only 3% compared to 8% for the best method now being used. He said some kinds of cardiac output readings can be off as much as 15%.

More importantly, patients can be tested repeatedly over long periods of time with results available immediately.

Dangerous Delay Cited
By comparison, a common technique for measuring heart output employs chemical dyes injected into the bloodstream.

Then a blood sample is removed and spun out as plasma in a centrifuge; the cardiac rate is determined by measuring the color changes effected by dilution. This kind of sampling is limited sharply because, after so many test series, dyes in the blood build up to a toxic level.

Patients, perhaps in precarious shape, have to wait until those levels diminish before they can be injected with more dye and tested again. Meantime, the doctor has little idea of how his patient's heart is performing.

The simple saline solution Richardson uses—a "thermal indicator"—is absolutely harmless, he says. Theoretically, testing could be carried out continuously for days with no ill effect and with the added bonus of "safety in numbers" assuring reliability of data.

Richardson, a native of Herrin, came to SIU in 1966 from St. Louis University's School of Medicine and has pioneered developments in biophysics and medical technology, including an electromagnetic blood flow meter. For that he won the gold medal of the Congress of Physical Medicine.

The office of Naval Research, which has sponsored previous projects of his, has called the new SIU cardiac output meter a "breakthrough in the field and an aid to the nation."

Richardson has assigned the patent to the SIU Foundation and has earmarked a portion of its royalty income for Foundation scholarships. Production rights are expected to be negotiated soon.

Local Wheat Yields

Wheat varieties in test plots on the William Keller farm in Collinsville township averaged 65.5 bushels per acre for the soft wheat varieties and 63.6 bushels for the hard wheats.

Blueboy, a soft wheat variety new in Illinois, continues to attract attention of wheat growers. It yielded highest in the test plots at 82.7 bushels per acre. Test weight was 55.8 pounds, which is two to three pounds lower than most of the other varieties.

Other soft wheat yields were: Arthur, 75.3 bushels per acre; Timwin, 67.2; Knox 62, 65.0; Monon, 62.8; and Bismarck, 58.1.

Hard wheat variety yields were: Parker, 70.0 bushels per acre; Triumph 64, 67.0; Gage, 64.8; Scout 66, 62.5; Pawnee, 60.6; and Ottawa 62.7.

Most of the wheat grown in Madison county is soft wheat because it consistently yields higher than hard wheat.

Timwin, a new, bearded, soft wheat variety, is two to three inches shorter than the other varieties. It stood exceptionally well in the test plots.

Benhur's poor performance may have resulted from its being badly lodged.

Farmers are cautioned against using the data from one set of plots as a basis for selecting a variety. Yield averages from several plots over a two or three year period provide a sound basis for selecting a variety. Varieties also tend to vary in yield from one farm to another.

Rain last week slowed wheat harvest just as most farmers were getting into the fields with their combines. Not enough reports of yields have been received to get an idea of wheat yields. However, most of the wheat looks like it will yield high. Wheat yields in some low, poorly-drained fields have been lowered by water damage.

Weed Problems

Weeds are a problem in some corn and soybean fields where herbicides were not applied or where they were used and failed to perform. Most grasses are too big to control with herbicides.

It is reported that 2-4-D and Banvel (dicamba) are the two top choices for broadleaf weed control in corn. 2-4-D will control most of the annual broadleaf weeds effectively. Use nozzle extensions from the boom to keep the spray out of the corn whorl if you spray after the corn is more than eight inches tall. Do not spray with 2-4-D used-amine or ester. If you use the amine form, apply one-half pound of the active ingredient per acre. If you use the ester form, apply one-sixth to one-fourth pound per acre.

The amine form is less likely to cause drift problems, but most farmers consider the ester form more active and less likely to wash off with a rain. Weeds are easier to kill when they are small, so adjust the rate of application to the weed size.

Each year 2-4-D damages some corn. The symptoms are an elbowing of the stalk, abnormal brace roots and "onion leafing." Corn germs most susceptible to 2-4-D damage when it is under cool, wet-weather stress, or when it is growing fast during hot, humid periods. Corn stalks are often brittle 7 to 10 days after spraying with 2-4-D, so delay cultivation if possible.

Banvel is cleared for use on corn until the crop is 36 inches high, or until 10 days before the tassels emerge. Banvel is similar to 2-4-D, but it provides improved smartweed control. Banvel often affects soybeans near treated cornfields, causing a cupping of the soybean leaves. To minimize Banvel drift, use a low pressure and avoid spraying when the wind velocity is more than 5 miles per hour.

Both Banvel and 2-4-D can injure corn. Banvel is cleared for use over the top of the corn, but the use of drop nozzles generally lessens the chance of corn injury.

Musk Thistle Spreading
Musk thistle continues to spread as a new weed problem in Madison county. Several calls were received last week about musk thistle.

This thistle three to five feet tall, is now in full bloom. It has many large, reddish-purple flowers on each plant. There may be 40 blossoms per plant with a thousand seeds produced by each blossom.

The main areas of infestation are in the Glen Carbon area, an area north of Collinsville to Troy, and from Edwardsville to Wood River.

No herbicide is recommended for controlling Musk thistle at this time of year. The herbicide 2, 4-D at one pound per acre is effective if applied when the thistle is in the rosette stage during October, November or April.

Mowing thistles now will help prevent seed production. Plants mowed will likely continue to grow and bloom in late summer. They will need to be mowed again at that time.

Isolated plants are killed by digging them out three inches below the surface of the ground.

Musk thistle should not be allowed to go to seed. Wind will blow the seed a great distance. Its growth habit is either biennial or a winter annual. It may germinate in either the spring or fall, make seed the following year, then die.

Musk thistle has been a severe problem in Nebraska for more than 20 years and legally is a "noxious weed" in that state. It is so new to Illinois that we do not yet know how much of a problem it will become here. But the way it has multiplied in Madison county the past two years it appears to have the potential of becoming a real problem.

Crop Share Leasing

A crop share lease is the most common method of leasing farm land in Madison county, but cash rent has become common.

A few more landowners and tenants each year ask about cash rent and request copies of lease forms to use for the cash rent method.

The question always asked is how much to pay or charge per acre. Several methods may be used to decide the amount. A starting point is to find out how much cash rent is currently being paid in the area.

For all the commotion they create, $50 an-acre cash rents are not common anywhere in Illinois. There are few rents this high in the state.

An average rent figure is about $34 per acre for high-producing farms and about $25 per acre for less productive land, according to a summary of farm business records in central and northern Illinois.

Those figures, as averages, probably are close to the amount paid in Madison county, although summary data are not available for cash rent paid here. Some land in Madison county is known to be cash rented for more than $34 average, and other land less than $25. The amount per acre varies greatly according to land productivity.

Some landowners like cash rent because it enables them to know in advance exactly how much income they will have from the farm. For tenants, it provides a way to increase farm size without need for a large amount of capital.

Perhaps the greatest value in fair cash lease is the freedom it offers—managerial freedom for tenants and freedom from management burdens for the landlord.

Tree Experts

Illinois law requires every tree expert to have a tree experts license if he prunes a tree.

But state regulations do not require protective insurance for the customer and can leave you paying for damages if a tree falls on your house or car.

The proper credentials doesn't guarantee quality workmanship but are the ingredients of an established firm and adequate protection for you. Always ask for a statement of liability insurance and be certain the small print includes protection from any legal action which results from the service performed.

Starter Fertilizers

On Transplants

Get your transplants off to a fast start with a good starter fertilizer. A starter fertilizer is one that is applied immediately after setting out a transplant.

Starter fertilizers should be high in phosphorus and completely soluble in water. One common analysis is 10-52-17, but other high phosphorus, water-soluble products are also available.

Mix about two tablespoons of water-soluble fertilizer for each gallon of water. Place one cup of solution around the roots of each plant or one to two gallons around each tree.

If no starter fertilizer is available, mix a cup of 0-45-0 or similar fertilizer with 3 gallons of water. Stir the mixture to keep the fertilizer from settling, and use the same amount as above.

The supplemental phosphorus is essential for root development of transplants in cool soils. Water-soluble fertilizers will supply this need in limited amounts.

'DOWNTOWN' VENICE
Looking like this about 72 years ago. This view, looking south on Main street, was taken from a point just north of Broadway on what is now known as County Main street. The object in street at left is horse watering trough located at the intersection of Broadway and Main. The building in the background at right center is the old Buente building. A man leaning on hitching rail at far right is standing in front of the old Greenwood tavern where farmers gathered before continuing down Main street to the ferry crossing and across the river to the produce market in St. Louis. This photo was furnished by Venice Chief of Police John Essington, who said he was told it was taken about 1898.

Windshield Smashed

Mike Hart, Rural Route Two, Box 869, reported at 12:20 a.m. Saturday that a group of boys threw a bottle, breaking the windshield of his auto as he drove near Nierdinghaus and Madison avenues, a short time earlier.

John Francis Benzie, 46, of Venice, and John E. Watson, 27, of Pasadena, Texas, were charged with murder in Atlanta, Ga. yesterday following the fatal shooting of a Columbus, Ga. restaurant manager during a robbery.

Police said both Benzie and Watson had escaped from a Texas prison prior to the robbery. The two men also held four persons hostage for varying amounts of time, but released all of them unharmed.

Columbus officers said a bandit entered the restaurant shortly after midnight Saturday, and that the manager, Marshall Minor, was shot through the heart when he made a remark. The bandit took a waitress hostage to a waiting auto where the driver also was holding a 60-year-old woman hostage.

Arrested in Atlanta

The two men, with their hostages, later forced their way into a Columbus residence where they held a man and his wife at gunpoint throughout the afternoon. They left the house late Sunday afternoon, took the man's car to the airport and boarded a flight for Greenville, S. C. When the plane made a stopover at Atlanta, they got off the plane and ran. Atlanta police later picked them up.

Benzie was arrested in Venice on June 6, 1962, according to police records, and was held for investigation. He later was turned over to St. Clair county authorities. At that time, Benzie said he lived at 1139 Market street.

The ceremony was solemnized at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in Madison at two o'clock in the afternoon Saturday. Rev. Sylvester Mick officiated. The new mass was used and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hucks, Miss Ann Polovich and Joseph Zlotkowski, godparents of the bride and groom, placed the offertory gifts on the altar. Servers at the Mass were Frank Dorris and Fred Dorris.

Miss Cockrell, B. D. Lackey Exchange Wedding Vows

Miss Cheryl Annette Cockrell, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold T. Cockrell, 2818 Birch Avenue, and Barry D. Lackey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clair Lackey, 903 Wesley street, Cahokia, exchanged wedding vows in a four-bling ceremony Friday evening at Suburban Baptist Church.

The Rev. Wendell Garrison officiated at the 8 p.m. ceremony before the altar decorated with gladioli and mums. Miss Donna Cockrell, sister of the bride, sang three selections, "The Wedding Song," "O Lord Most Holy," and "The Wedding Prayer." She was accompanied at the organ by Neil Seymour. Larry Brooks presided over the guest book.

The bride's gown, a gift from her brother and sister-in-law (Tommy and Janet Cockrell), who are stationed in Naples, Italy, was designed and handmade in Naples. The gown of white chiffon was trimmed with satin flowers with tiny pearl centers. The round neckline was encircled by a single row of flowers and the cuffs of the long, sheer chiffon sleeves were also trimmed with flowers. Flowers covered the bodice and the skirt fell in flowing drapes to the floor and extended in the back to form a chapel train.

The bride's sister, served as matron of honor, and Mrs. Cardon Lackey, the groom's sister-in-law, was bridesmaid. They wore identical long Empire gowns with white eyelet tops and turquoise linen skirts. Ruffles formed the high necks and also trimmed the cuffs of the long puff sleeves. Tiny turquoise buttons accented the bodice and cuffs and the Empire waists were trimmed with olive green velvet ribbon.

The bride's niece, Michelle Demarest, served as flower girl. She wore a floor-length turquoise dress trimmed with white lace. Both attendants and the flower girl carried bouquets of daisies and olive green velvet ribbon.

Cardon Lackey, brother of the groom, was best man, and Ronald Lackey, another brother, was groomsmen. Brian Demarest, the bride's nephew, was ring bearer and Terry Demarest and David Cockrell served as ushers.

The bride's mother chose a sheer pastel green A-line dress trimmed with white lace and carried white accessories. The mother of the groom wore a blue linen sheath trimmed with a wide lace panel down the front. Both mothers wore daisy corsages.

A reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church immediately following the ceremony. Misses Spring Fong and Helen Chou of Hong Kong (college roommates of the bride), Mrs. R. L. Parkey and Mrs. Dolores Moser assisted.

The former Miss Cockrell, a 1965 graduate of Granite City high school, recently graduated from SIU-SW with a Bachelor of Music degree. She will be employed by the East Alton school district as an elementary vocal music teacher. While attending SIU-SW, Miss Cockrell was a member of Phi Phi Epsilon music sorority and Music Educators National Conference.

New Date in October For Wheat Referendum

Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin has announced postponement of the National wheat referendum previously scheduled for July 27-31, according to Lee Rogers, Executive Director of the Madison County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) office. The action was authorized by Congress.

The postponement permits the USDA to delay holding the referendum not later than Oct. 15, 1970, or 30 days after Congress adjourns, whichever date is earlier.

Accordingly, the U. S. Department of Agriculture's ASCS, which administers the wheat feed grain and similar programs has instructed its state and county offices across the nation to withhold ballots and other referendum materials, Rogers said.

The director explained that basic farm legislation requires a referendum for wheat marketing quotas. However, the Agricultural Act of 1965 suspended this referendum requirement from 1965 through the 1970 crop year. Unless new farm legislation, now pending, is enacted by the Congress, basic legislation will again go into effect, and a referendum will then be required in 1970 for the 1971 crop year.

2nd Quarter Report

General Steel's Sales, Earnings Show Decline

General Steel Industries, Inc., had net sales of $22,413,000 and net income of $600,092, or 24 cents per share of common stock, for the second quarter this year compared with sales of $27,411,000 and net income of $861,000, or 33 cents per share, in the second quarter of 1969.

W. Ashley Gray Jr., president of the diversified manufacturing corporation, announced late Thursday following a meeting of the board of directors.

Although the company's performance in the second quarter showed improvement over the first, Gray said, "the upturn was not nearly as strong as originally anticipated. The truck strike had a pronounced effect on our operations, especially in the St. Louis, Chicago and Los Angeles areas where eight of our plants are located."

"Certain plants were forced to close and operations at others were disrupted. In addition, the main plant of our Ludlowville Wire Cloth Division in St. Louis county was closed by a strike from May 1 to July 27.

"The impact of these strikes combined with the continuing depressed level of the economy have made it unrealistic to expect GSI to meet our original objective for 1970 which was to hold 1969 earnings near the level achieved in 1969 despite a much lower sales volume. However, the improvement shown in the second quarter is expected to continue during the last half of the year."

10-Cent Dividend
GSI's board of directors declared a dividend of 10 cents per share on the common stock for the third quarter of 1970, payable Sept. 30 to stockholders of record as of Sept. 18. This compares with 20 cents per share previously paid.

Gray said, "The action was taken because GSI's reduced earnings have emphasized the need to conserve cash during this period of tight money and to meet unusually heavy working capital requirements for the St. Louis Car Division which will begin initial shipments later this year on the largest order backlog in its history for rapid transit and commuter cars."

The directors felt it would be prudent under present conditions to establish a more moderate quarterly dividend rate."

For the first half of 1970, General Steel Industries, Inc., had sales of $38,355,000 and net income of $401,000, or 16 cents per share, compared with sales of $38,166,000 and net earnings of $2,311,000, or 92 cents per share, in the first six months of 1969.

Gray said, "The major part of GSI's 1970 decline in sales and earnings results from the fact that the Car Division is now tooling up for the later production of transit cars while during the first half 1969 the Car Division was delivering a large number of new cars."

General Steel Industries, Inc., supplies a wide range of industrial and other markets with products manufactured at 25 plants in the U. S. and abroad.
